INJECTABLES

ANTI-WRINKLE TREATMENT

XEOMIN®

XEOMIN® is incobotulinum toxin A (like Botox) that is injected into muscles to prevent the formation of wrinkles or to minimize the appearance of existing facial wrinkles, folds, and creases. It works by blocking signals from the nerves to the muscles, so that the injected muscle cannot contract. Within 2 weeks of your treatment, you should notice your muscles begin to relax with fewer facial lines and wrinkles. This effect typically wears off in about 3–6 months.

XEOMIN® THERAPY

XEOMIN® is also used to relieve medical conditions including chronic pain and excessive sweating. It works by blocking or limiting the activity of muscles, nerves, or glands in the body respective to the specific area that is treated. Reduced muscular activity for therapeutic purposes can alleviate shoulder and back pain, muscle spasms, and jaw clenching. Reduced nerve activity for therapeutic purposes is specifically helpful with chronic migraines where the transmission of pain sensations is limited in the treated areas of the head and neck. Reduced glandular activity helps in reducing the production of sweat in the treated area without affecting the perspiration of the entire body, which is required for optimal temperature regulation.
